WEEKLY MEDITATION for the 16th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Jesus is offering the whole of humanity, the field sown with wheat and weed, the opportunity to be included into God's Kingdom. There is no sorting out first before the offer is made, the offer is there for all and the sad reality is that some will reject this inclusive offer of love. It is a reminder to us not to mote the inclusiveness of the Reign of God. Sometimes we can dismiss something as small and inconsequential but in doing so we can overlook the mustard seed, or the leaven. God uses everyday items to remind us of how surprising the Kingdom of Heaven is and how something small can change the world.

Patience!

Dear Friends,

A life filled with many responsibilities is a life filled with stress. We all have somewhere to go and somewhere to be at a certain time...certain place. Our lives in this society have become increasingly fast-paced. With this fast pace there is an increase in expectations and an increase in even more responsibilities.

Since we are a society used to getting everything "express"...on the go...instantly...the need for patience when things are not so is necessary. To be patient will become an admirable quality and something for which we will all search for and strive in our society. What is patience? How do we define it? The wise will say that it is a condition or the capability to withstand or endure in difficult, stressful, painful situations without a negative reaction.

Patience is in fact the test of an individuals' character in which we see how much they can stand it without becoming negative, and attacking. We can even say it is a test of how strong and persevering a character is when it comes to dealing with serious or most often times insignificant and silly realities. The test of patience is most commonly the test of character. Patience is a virtue and quality found in individuals who are aware of the depths of reality within themselves and to whom character is an important feature.

judge those around us because what might appear to be 'weed' and hence unworthy, may respond to God's invitation. Sometimes we can become rather zealous about rooting out evil rather than promoting good or even looking for good before we label the bad. It is not for us to judge but rather for us to pro-

WISDOM'S CORNER

Patience...

We need to practice patience. First of all, we need to be patient with ourselves. We may not get everything done perfectly this week, but so what? Then we must be patient with the others – those who annoy us by the way they drive their cars, those whose opinions differ from ours, those who make too much noise and disturb us and those who make our spiritual progress more difficult for us by their bad example and counter-witnessing. Let's practice patience, remembering that, in the end, it is God who controls. Let us patiently and lovingly treat the "weeds" in our society as our brothers and sisters and do all in our power to put them back on the right road to heaven, especially by our good example and our fervent prayer for their conversion.
