WEEKLY MEDITATION for the 33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

No two of us are alike. God has given each of us special gifts or talents. If used well, these gifts will enrich our own lives and the lives of others.

But who among us can say that we have made full use of the gifts of grace and nature that God has given us? Have we not at times left them unused, or worse, misused them?

Paul urges the Thessalonians to be watchful of how they use their abilities as they await the coming of the Lord.

In Matthew's Gospel, we again

see the necessity of being watchful. In Jesus' parable of the talents, he spells out what the watchful do. The watchful carry out the Lord's instructions to the best of their God-given ability.

God has given each of us special gifts and talents. If used well, they will enrich our lives and help accomplish God's mission for us.

WISDOM'S CORNER

The wealthy miser

There was a wealthy miser who melted down his hoard of gold into a single lump which he then secretly buried in his garden. Every day he went to look at it, and would spend hours gloating over it.

Then one of his servants discovered his secret and came by night and stole the gold. When the miser discovered that his treasure had been stolen, he was heart-broken.

But a friend said to him, "Don't take it so badly. Just put a brick in the hole and take a look at it every day. You won't be any worse off than before, for even when you had the gold you never used it."

All of us bury some God-given talent that we simply don't use — either for our own benefit or for the benefit of others. And what is buried is of no earthly use to anyone.

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

"Life is God's gift to us.
What we do with life is our gift to God."

Walking in his footsteps

Dear Friends,

Walking in the Holy Land is an exceptional experience. To enter Jerusalem, which is full of history and symbols, is a big event. To stand at the western gate, to walk Jesus' way of the cross, to come to Gethsemane on the Mount of Olives or to stand amid the ruins of Siloam is a major experience.

To pass through Jericho and enter the Judean desert and feel what it means to live in the desert, and to imagine fasting many days, means to read the Bible with new eyes.

And then to go to Galilee! To visit the villages and towns where Christ taught, to enter the synagogue where he spoke to the Jews about the Kingdom of God, means to learn anew and hear anew.

To come to the Jordan River which flows even today, means to come to the source, to understand more deeply the Biblical texts, and to strengthen our will to follow his teachings.

A journey to Israel is different from all other journeys.

So it is a pity that some of you could not come and be with us this time. But if you ever have the opportunity to go either to the Holy Land or to any other destination in the whole world, choose the Holy Land. You won't regret it. You will have the opportunity to become a new person and persevere in powerful hope to the end.

May our journey be a blessing for all of you! We carried all of you with us. In spirit, you walked with us in every part of that interesting land, in every place along Christ's earthly journey.

The New Translation of the Mass (5)

What difference will these changes in the words of the Mass make in my parish?

Some of the differences will be obvious immediately. We are learning new musical settings for the various parts of the Mass. We will learn new words for common prayers, such as the Creed. Those of us who began saying the Mass prayers by heart long ago will need to rely on printed texts again, at least for a while. In the early months of the transition, we may find it more challenging to pray with one voice as people adjust to the new texts and gradually commit them to their hearts. But these surface differences will give way to deeper and more significant changes. If we use this time of preparation well, we will make the changes with a deeper understanding of the Liturgy and a renewed reverence for and appreciation of the Mass. We will hear the prayers with new ears and with new hearts. Our Liturgy will be filled with new life and new spirit as we celebrate the Paschal Mystery of Christ made present for us.

The new translation will be entirely in effect on the weekend of Nov. 26-27, 2011.

Prepare for the new translation:

- 1) By taking home and reading the brochure "Why Is the Translation of the Mass Changing."
- 2) By studying in church the plastic-coated cards the in the pews which have the new words used by the people in bold letters. Please leave these handy cards in the pew so that they can be used for several months.

New altar servers to be received formally next weekend: Please pray for our new altars servers who are being solemnly admitted to this ministry this coming weekend.

Next weekend's Second Collection will be for the Catholic Church's "Campaign of Human Development," which seeks to help the poor rise out of poverty.

Prayer of Remembrance this Thursday

In November we especially remember our beloved deceased. Each one of us has at least one dear soul who is close to us. We miss our mothers and fathers, spouses, children, brothers, sisters. We invite you to a prayer vigil, for the souls of our loved ones. Everybody is invited. Organized by our parish's Marian Society this Thursday, November 17 at 7 p.m. Let us take time to reflect, pray, sing, remember...

CLOTHING DRIVE for the Homeless

The cold of winter has arrived and is affecting everyone in Chicago, especially the homeless. Blankets, winter coats (especially for men), pants, shirts, jackets etc. are needed for the homeless. Please bring them to the rectory. Thank you for your generosity.

FALL FOOD DRIVE CONTINUES

Bring your non-perishable food for individuals and families struggling to find enough healthy food. Bring your donations to the church's entrance area through Thanksgiving Day. Organized by the St. Jerome Youth Service Corps.

Spare Change in Baby Bottles

Those of you who collected spare change in baby bottles to help moms in crisis pregnancy situations are invited at this time to return those bottles. Thank you for helping the Women's Centers of Chicagoland inform and assist expectant mothers in dire need.

Archives, photos, olden events...

We are still inviting and pleading with our parishioners for any type of old pictures, documents, books, booklets, reports, films that have something to do with St. Jerome's. It might be a private event, a club, a social event, personal... We would be happy to take a look, scan it, copy it and give it back to you. We are putting together the story of St. Jerome's, its 100-year-old journey of faith, family, traditions... We would like to keep our memories organized and preserved. We are very grateful for any help you can give us.
