33RD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Predicting the end of the world seems to be a particular fascination in our culture. From something as innocent as a parlor game to actions as deadly as a suicide pact, the imagination of when and how the world will end seems to take hold of certain people. The entertainment industry has capitalized on this fascination - and even fear - with offerings such as the 1959 classic On the Beach, the 1993 film The Day After, and the recent release 2012. Of course predicting the end of the world isn't limited to Hollywood's attempts to rake in profits. Long ago there were some who believed that the world was going to end with the return of Christ in the year AD 1000, although it seems that these people never really became a movement that later generations imagined them to be. In the nineteenth century, predictions about the end of time were made by several evangelists, some of whom gathered many followers who then abandoned them when the date didn't pan out as foretold.

The Gospel this Sunday is a prime text for certain preachers who would have us believe that the world is soon to end. Recent significant earthquakes in the past few years are used as concrete examples to legitimize the prediction. The same omens are perceived in the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan as well as the long-enduring conflict in the Middle East. It is easy to get caught up in this kind of prognostication.

Whenever the end of the world will be, that should have no relevance on how we live our lives. As Christians, we should always be ready for the coming of Christ because he can reveal himself at any time. Christ may come to us in the needy poor, in the elderly neighbor, in the child, in a coworker or spouse. We don't need the end of the world to find him.

33. NEDJELJA KROZ GODINU

I u vjerničkom narodu može se ponekad pojaviti bezvoljnost i ravnodušnost kad mu se zadana obećanja ne ispunjavaju. Kad nepravednici, zlikovci i bezbošci žive bolje od pravednika i vjernika tada se kod vjernika čuje pitanje: „Gdje je Bog pravde?“ Slično je bilo i u davnoj prošlosti. Dio naroda Hebreja koji se 536. godine prije Krista povratio iz babilonskoga zarobljeništva u zemlju svojih pradedova, nakon što su obnovili jeruzalemski hram kao svoje kultno vjersko središte, počeli su tonuti u vjerski i moralni indiferentizam. Svećenici nisu dolično obavljali svoju službu, a koristili su se i prednostima svoga položaja. Narod k njima nije dolazio da bi čuo Božju riječ, jer kroz njih nije ni dolazila do izražaja. Takvo stanje odražavalo se na stanovništvo i na njegov moralni život, poglavito u braku. Muškarci su se ženili strankinjama koje djecu nisu odgajale u Mojsijevoj vjeri. Rastave brakova bile su gotovo bezrazložne i učestale. Izostajala je briga za uzdržavanje hrama i njegovih službenika. Na probleme toga vremena nastojao je u Božje ime odgovoriti prorok kojeg su nazvali Malahija - Jahvin glasnik. Vrijeme njegova djelovanja je između 480. i 450. g. pr. Kr. Iz njegova dijaloškog spisa razvidno je kako se je zauzimao za unutarnju, duhovnu obnovu naroda, jer mu je bilo jasno da prave promjene nabolje ne dolaze izvana nego iz ljudskoga srca i uma. U kratkom ovonedjeljnom liturgijskom ulomku Malahija opominje narod da će „Dan Gospodnji“ neizostavno doći te da će nastupiti potpuna Božja pravda. Prorok opisuje eshatološki sud nad nepravednicima i zlikovcima. Pravednici ne mogu od Boga biti zaboravljeni ni napušteni. Od njih se traži postojana vjera u budućnost u kojoj će se Božja pravda neizostavno dogoditi, jer Bog ne može prevareni ni prevaren biti.
