WEEKLY MEDITATION — 16th Sunday in Ordinary Time

The farmer in Jesus' story planted good seed and expected a great harvest, but soon discovered weeds growing among the shoots of wheat. He was bitterly disappointed. Similarly, sooner or later the weeds appear in our field — a friend betrays us, a partner disappoints us or proves unfaithful... We are shocked and hurt at the appearance of evil. The badness of bad people we expect and can forearm ourselves against it, but the badness of good people takes us by surprise and hurts all the more. The world is a mixture of light and darkness, good and evil. Wheat and weeds grow side by side in the same person, indeed, in ourselves. We have to work on the good, but what about the evil? Evil has to be resisted. We have to do so in such a way that we do not do further evil in the process. Evil can be overcome only by good. Because of the presence of evil we have to struggle, but it is through struggle that we grow. Struggle awakens all that is good and precious within us. Indeed, the presence of evil could then be said to be necessary. Unless we had to make a choice between good and evil, no virtue would be possible. On harvest day the farmer separated the weeds from the wheat. He reaped a fine harvest. Even though it fell short of the hundred percent he had hoped for, the quality was excellent, and for some reason, he got more satisfaction from reaping that harvest than from any other. There is more joy when the victory is hard-won.

MISSION APPEAL The Little Sisters of the Poor will take up a collection at all the masses on the weekend of July 23-24 for the support of their work among the elderly poor. The Sisters conduct St. Mary's Home for the Elderly in Chicago. In order to maintain the Home, the Sisters go out daily to solicit money, food, and services for their residents. Any help you can offer them will be deeply appreciated.

OUR DECEASED On Thursday, July 7, Oliva (Evelyn) Condich, a lifelong parishioner of St. Jerome, passed into eternal life. Evelyn received all of the sacraments here and was very active in parish life, participating, helping, and supporting our community. Our sympathy is extended to her siblings: John, Sr. Bernardine, Joseph, Mark, Peter, Simon (Duško), and Rosanda, and her many nieces and nephew. May God grant her peace.

WISDOM'S CORNER A fence or a bridge?

Once there were a couple of farmers who couldn't get along with each other. A wide ravine separated their two farms. As a sign of their mutual distaste for each other, each constructed a fence on his side of the chasm to keep the other out. In time, however, the daughter of one met the son of the other and the couple fell in love. Determined not to be kept apart by the folly of their fathers, they tore down the fence and used the wood to build a bridge across the ravine.
