WEEKLY MEDITATION for the Eleventh Sunday of Ordinary Time

There is a clear theme running through all three readings from the Bible today: God takes the initiative in our regard.

In the Gospel reading, Jesus — true God and true man — saw the very human needs of the people in the crowd, who were “troubled and abandoned, like sheep without a shepherd.”

When Jesus looked at those people, he didn’t see a crowd, but a collection of human beings with distinct problems and worries of their own. He had compassion on them in their need.

He gave himself to them, but knowing how great God’s harvest was, he summoned helpers and chose his apostles. He trained his apostles by living with them and being a model for them. Then he sent them out to be instruments of his compassion to others.

Today Jesus depends on us. Through baptism we too are called to help Jesus reach human souls in need.

WISDOM’S CORNER

Fit for a king

Once there was a king who had no son, so he sent out a proclamation seeking qualified young men to apply as a possible successor to the throne. Candidates needed two qualifications: to love God and to love their fellow human beings.

One fine young man, who truly wanted to see the king, was too poor to afford presentable clothes and buy provisions for the journey to the castle, yet somehow he managed to earn enough money to make the trip and so he set off to see the king.

Along the way he came upon a poor beggar, pleading for help. Without a second thought, the young man exchanged clothes with the beggar and gave him his food. He then continued his journey to the castle, although dressed in rags and without provisions.

At the castle he was admitted to the throne room. The young man bowed low before his majesty, but when he raised his eyes, he gasped in astonishment. “It’s you,” he said to the king.

“Yes,” replied the king, “I was the beggar you met along the road. I had to find out what was truly in your heart. You will be my successor.”

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

“The task of a Christian is not to win the love of God, but to respond to it.”

NEW PRIEST’S FIRST MASS

Today, Sunday, June 15, our newly ordained Franciscan priest, Fr. Joe Mioč, celebrates his First Mass at St. Jerome’s at the 11 a.m. Mass, with refreshments in the School Hall afterward (cookies, cold cuts, coffee, drinks, etc.).

Come and receive the “New Priest Blessing” at the new Father Joe’s First Mass!

Franciscan Friars: 1209-2009, and beyond...

Continuing our gradual look at the Franciscan Friars as they approach their 800th birthday as a Religious Order, we take a look at some of the writings by major Franciscans. On this Father’s Day, we look at a father-to-son letter of Saint Louis XI, a French king and Third Order Franciscan who lived in the time of St. Francis:

My dearest son, my first instruction is that you should love the Lord your God with all your heart and all your strength. Without this there is no salvation. Keep yourself, my son, from everything that you know displeases God, that is to say, from every mortal sin. You should permit yourself to be tormented by every kind of martyrdom before you would allow yourself to commit a mortal sin. Be kindhearted to the poor, the unfortunate and the afflicted. Give them as much help and consolation as you can.

This weekend we welcome into our faith community through the Sacrament of Baptism:

Evan Robert Mišura,

the son of Robert & Megan (nee Hyland) Mišura. His Godparents will be John Mišura & Christen Hyland.

Margaret Geraldine Marcus,

the daughter of Kevin & Julie (nee Pesce) Marcus. Her Godfather will be Anthony Pesce. Erin Marcus will also care for Margaret's spiritual welfare.

Gregory Mate Nikolich, the son of Gregory John & Judy (nee Bahl) Nikolich. His Godparents will be Brian Blaauw and Marylu Dukić.

Our congratulations to their parents, Godparents, family and friends! May God bless little Evan, Margaret and Gregory!

Dear Friends!

The Mass gives us the gift and ability to:

Ask forgiveness for our sins!

Learn the ways that the word of God can influence our everyday lives!

Extend our hands and give ourselves to God every week!

Experience the mystery of the Eucharist — Jesus is truly among us!

Extend the hand of peace to those around us and to be aware that we are called to share the gift of peace!

Accept blessings. Blessings are a critical reality in our lives.

Know that we are called to go out and witness the goodness and love which Christ pours out on us at every Mass.

Be happy because we can come to a place where we give our thanks to God and ask Him to protect those whom we love and to help those in need.

WHAT A PRIVILEGE IT IS TO BE AT MASS!
LET US BE AWARE OF THAT PRIVILEGE.
THIS IS WHERE THE GREAT MYSTERY TAKES PLACE!

Free Seminar next Sunday, June 22

USING AN ESTATE PLAN TO ACCOMPLISH YOUR GOALS

This brief seminar will focus on the essential estate planning documents that everyone should maintain and keep up to date including, wills, trusts, and the powers of attorney that will give guidance to your loved ones in the event that you suffer an accident or disability.

The seminar will also address the probate process and what happens in the event that someone dies without a will.

This seminar will be presented by parishioner, Andrew Hays, who is an attorney that specializes in estate planning, probate estate administration and real estate.

Please contact Mr. Hays if you plan on attending so that he will be sure to prepare a packet of information for you (phone him at 847-221-5040 or send an email to ahays@andrewhayslaw.com).

501 bags of clothing & other goods for poor!

Our heartfelt thanks go out to our parishioners who responded so generously to our first St. Vincent De Paul Society clothing drive. An amazing total of 501 bags and boxes of goods were donated. Special thanks go out to our St. Jerome Youth Service Corps for their initiating and carrying through with this drive. May God bless all of your generosity!

ON THE TOWN Group (all are welcome!): We're going to the show "Tony N Tina's Wedding" on Thursday, July 17, starting at 7:00 pm. If you are interested in joining us for a fun night, call either Joan Sipich at 312-326-3205 or Eva Mossman at 312-842-5485 as soon as possible!
