WEEKLY MEDITATION for the Tenth Sunday of Ordinary Time

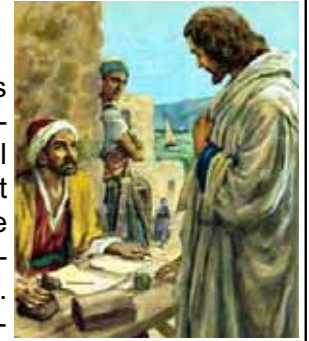

Jesus' attitude toward sinners was one of kindness and persuasion rather than condescension and condemnation. He didn't wait for sinners to repent before becoming their friend; he befriended sinners.

Jesus' reason was very straightforward — he said he went where the need was greatest. In associating with sinners he wasn't condoning their sins, rather, he was trying to show them a new way of life. In acting as he did, Jesus revealed the mercy of God. He put sinners in touch with God's love for them. In their response to that love, they tried let go of their sins in order to better follow Jesus.

Jesus was recognized as a holy man, yet he accepted sinners. Jesus distinguished between the sinner and the sin, always condemning the evil of sin, but offering the sinner forgiveness. His overriding motive for acting as he did was one of compassion born of love.

WISDOM'S CORNER

A doctor like mine

A man lived on the same street as a doctor. Since he enjoyed excellent health, he had no reason to visit the doctor. Hence, he had only a nodding acquaintance with him. The doctor seemed to be a nice man, and he had heard people who had been to his office say that he was very compassionate and kind.

When the man got sick, he immediately went to see this doctor, who welcomed him warmly. The doctor spoke gently to the man and examined him with patience and thoroughness. He diagnosed his trouble and prescribed medication. Within a week the man was well again.

Because of this encounter he knew firsthand the kind of man the doctor was. Prior to this, the man knew the doctor only by hearsay. Now he had personally experienced his kindness. This only happened because the man got sick. Later the man remarked to a neighbor, "No one wants to get sick, but when one does, it's reassuring to know that there is a doctor like mine."

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

"Love,
not time,
heals all wounds."

Welcome, Bishop Janjic!

We welcome the bishop who ordained our two newest Franciscan priests last week to our 11 o'clock Mass today. Bishop Ilija Janjic is the bishop of Kotor. His diocese was founded in the sixth century, and the Croatian people built their present cathedral in 1167!

Congratulations to our newly ordained priests!

Fr. Joe Mioc and Fr. Velimir Bagavac were ordained Friday at our North Side Franciscan parish, Bl. Alojzije Stepinac church (formerly Angel Guardian church). Thank you to all of you who made the trip north to be present at this great event.

FIRST MASS:

Next Sunday, June 15, Fr. Joe Mioc will celebrate his First Mass at St. Jerome's at the 11 a.m. Mass, with refreshments (cold cuts, cookies, coffee, drinks, etc.) in the School Hall afterward. Come and receive the "New Priest Blessing" at the new Fr. Joe's First Mass!

Franciscan Friars: 1209-2009, and beyond...

Continuing our gradual look at the Franciscan Friars as they approach their 800th birthday as a Religious Order, we take a look at some of the writings that St. Francis of Assisi left behind to guide his brothers the past 8 centuries. His writings give us a unique window into his soul.

Francis's words to his Brothers about Patience

"We can never tell how patient or humble a person is when everything is going well with him. But when those who should cooperate with him do the exact opposite, then we can tell. A man has as much patience and humility as he has then, and no more."

COMPLETION OF BAPTISMAL RITE

On June 24, 2007, Hailey Diana Link, the 2-day-old daughter of Matthew & Theresa Anne (nee McGuane) Link was baptized in a hospital, having been born 3 months prematurely. Her fingers were thinner than matchsticks. Tragically, her mother, Theresa, had passed away hours earlier. Surrounded by love, supported by many prayers, and with the Holy Spirit in her heart since baptism, Hailey is about to complete a year of many struggles overcome.

This Sunday, at 12:30 p.m., Hailey will complete the baptismal rituals that were left for the future when she was baptized last year in her neo-natal incubator — the anointing with Chrism, receiving the lighted candle, dressing in the white garment, etc. This great event will mark that Hailey has arrived at a happy future that could only have been dreamed of with fervent hope a year ago. Hailey has attained this point with God's help, with her father's amazing love and dedication, with her mother's prayers and spiritual closeness, with two grandmothers giving virtually round-the-clock nurturing, with grandfatherly love as well, with loving care from many family, friends and medical professionals. Challenges of course lie ahead, but this is a time for great rejoicing!

Our congratulations go out to Matthew, Hailey's Godparents Michael McGuane and Nancy Link, and all of Hailey's family and friends. May Jesus continue to bless little Hailey!

Dear Friends!

The warm weather is arriving, albeit slowly. This means a change in the type of clothing we wear. Wherever we go, it is only natural to dress appropriately for the place and the occasion or event. Because the church is our sacred ground for worship, it is fitting that we dress according to standards of modesty that reflect our focus on God. It is important that we honor God with respectful and proper attire every time we come to church. Dressing with regard for our sacred place also demonstrates concern for the other people in church, and allows them to concentrate their attention on what is the most important matter in church—the spiritual life.

I ask that everyone come to church dressed appropriately. It should be obvious, but there should be no shorts, no sundresses, no bare shoulders, ...
