WEEKLY MEDITATION 30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Jesus was asked to name the greatest commandment and responded by naming two. He brought them together and made them of equal importance. We must not separate them, yet in practice we often do.

There is a terrible sterility about the lives of those who claim to love God, but dispense themselves from all obligations to love other people. Such people, at best, have understood only half of the Gospel. There are others who go to the opposite extreme. They exhaust themselves in working for a better world but never think of God or pray to him.

Christ showed us how to live the total Gospel, that is, how to love God and to love our neighbor. To begin with, we must love ourselves in a healthy and good way. This is where love starts, but it is not meant to end there. All true love of self overflows in the form of love of others and of God. It's easy to love people who are loveable, but not so easy to love others who are difficult.

The real test of love is how to love God, and our neighbor as well. Jesus didn't say they were the same thing, but we can't have one without the other. Jesus brought these two greatest commandments together because they are equally important.

WISDOM'S CORNER

Can't Have Just One Without the Other

In the time of the desert monks, there was an abbot by the name of Moses who had a great reputation for holiness. Easter was approaching, so the monks met to see what they should do to prepare for it. They decided to fast the entire length of Holy Week. Having come to the decision, each monk went off to his cell, there to fast and pray. However, about the middle of the week, two wandering monks came to visit the cell of Abbot Moses. Seeing that they were starving, he cooked a little vegetable stew for them. To make them feel at ease he took a little of it himself. Meanwhile the other monks had seen the smoke rising from their abbot's cell. It could mean only one thing—he had lit a fire to cook some food. In other words, he had broken the solemn fast. They were shocked, and in the eyes of many of them, he fell from his pinnacle of sanctity. In a body, they went over to confront him. Seeing judgment in their eyes, he asked, "What crime have I committed that makes you look at me like this?"

"You've broken the solemn fast," they answered.

"So I have," he replied. "I have broken the commandment of men, but in sharing my food with these brothers of ours, I have kept the commandment of God that we should love one another." On hearing this, the monks grew silent and went away humbled but wiser.

The letter of the Law kills, but the Spirit of the Law gives life.

THE THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

 sow love, and you will reap love."

Bridgeport community meeting on Wilson Park

New plans for Wilson Park (34th Place, east of Racine) will be unveiled, featuring foam under the play equipment and a new spray area (for getting sprinkled and cooling off on hot summer days). Come Monday, Nov. 7 at 6:30 p.m. to the Wilson Park field house to see and comment on the plans, as well as to offer financial support.

Hey! Hey-hey! Hey!

What a celebration it was! An enthusiastic and virtuoso band imitating the Beatles, and a rousing victory (during intermission) that was the next-to-last step for the Sox on the way to the World Series! Much more exciting than your average parking lot fund-raiser!

Many dedicated parishioners and friends of the parish made this Parking Lot event a success.

St. Jerome's parish community wants to extend a big thank you to the volunteers, the donors, the sellers, and those who attended.

Special thanks go out to the Old Neighborhood Italian American Club for the use of their elegant and modern facility.

May God bless all who contributed to making it less difficult for people to come to church and worship.

WHITE SOX OF YESTERYEAR: Did you know?

Our parish has a long history with the Chicago White Sox. Over the years, many of our parishioners have worked for the Sox organization at many levels...including the Bat Boy level! Indeed, three of the Sox Bat Boys have been from our parish: the late Pete Pervan in 1939; John Roscich in the great year of 1959; and Michael Alebich in 1965.

May God protect our neighborhood's White Sox team from injuries, and may he grace them with skill and sportsmanship. Amen!
